

WorkforceIQ Performance Evaluation & Growth Framework

Section: Section 1: Bi-Annual Appraisal Cycle | Page 1 of 2

Performance evaluations occur bi-annually: the Mid-Year Review cycle in June and the Annual Review cycle in December. Appraisals leverage 360-degree feedback combining peer assessments, direct manager sprint impact evaluations, and cross-functional project deliverables. Key metrics include Technical Delivery, Collaboration, Mentorship, and Alignment with OKRs.

WorkforceIQ Performance Evaluation & Growth Framework

Section: Section 2: Performance Improvement Framework (PIP) | Page 2 of 2

When sustained delivery drops below 65% for two consecutive sprint cycles, managers must initiate a structured 60-day Performance Improvement Plan (PIP) in collaboration with HRBP. The PIP outlines clear weekly milestones, dedicated mentorship pairings, and weekly progress check-ins. If performance fails to reach benchmark thresholds upon conclusion, HR will evaluate role reassignment or separation with statutory severance.